 HotellerieSuisse

Welcome

In 2019 we discovered the beautiful Eggberge and fell in love with this characterful old building. We decided to breathe some love into the berggasthaus which first opened in 1953. Step by step, over the last 5 years (during the off-seasons), we have enthusiastically rejuvenated it into what you experience today.

Inspired by English gastro pubs, we want to create a refuge for our guests and bring the aroma of homemade fusion cuisine to the Uri mountains. Our menu combines our roots with our feelings, experiences and our home on the Eggbergen.

We hope you enjoy your stay with us and our team

Gaby (the Swiss one) & Andy (the English one)

Have you seen our cosy hotel rooms?
(...if you're already staying with us, we wish you a lovely relaxing time!)

happiness
homemade

What we be created by ourselves in the kitchen, we produce ourselves

The burgers, sausages, soups, salad dressings, dips, salads, ravioli, vegetables, sauces, pies, marinades, nuggets, pesto, brownies, crème brûlée, cakes...

With us you can enjoy homemade and delicious food...

...be it with meat, vegetarian, vegan, or without allergens.

Products, if possible, from local suppliers

That's why we source high-quality products from the area around our mountain, and if we need something that isn't available here, we first source it from central Switzerland.

Old house, renovated with new technology:

Energy efficiency for comfort and coziness. Minergi standards, triple glazing, hot water & heating by solar and heat pumps, a modern kitchen that saves water and electricity and we prepare delicious food directly with solar energy!

We serve pure Eggberge spring water, straight from the mountain!

We plan well and actively work to reduce food waste and rubbish.
